Beginning September 11, Inventing the American Past: The Art of F.O.C. Darley celebrates Darley's accomplishments. Organized by the New York Public Library and Brandywine River Museum, the exhibition is the first retrospective of Darley in over 20 years. Accompanies an exhibit of work by the 19th-century American draughtsman, who created some of the most enduring national stereotypes of US culture through illustrations for some of most widely read authors of the time. Contains 25 b&w illustrations (many full-page). Inventing the American past. New York: New York Public Library, (OCoLC) Named Person: Felix Octavius Carr Darley; Felix Octavius Carr Darley: Document Type: Book: All Authors / Contributors: Nancy Finlay; Felix Octavius Carr Darley; Stokes Gallery.; Brandywine River Museum. In style and subject matter, Darley's work ranges from the earthy realism and humor of his early illustrations for popular fiction through the heroic grandeur of the large engravings of historical subjects and the deluxe editions of his later career.
